FREDERICK DOUGLASS CENTER.

There was a large attendance of children and their parents at the Christmas service last Sunday. The program consisted of singing and recitations. Each child present received a box of candy and an orange.

The program for Sunday, the 29th, at 4 p. m. is unusually attractive. Judge Edward Osgood Brown of the Appellate Court will speak on Abraham Lincoln. Judge Brown has been a loyal member of the Douglass Center ever since its organization in 1904. The first meeting to discuss the new movement was held at his house. A large attendance should greet him next Sunday.

The Center will join the congregation of Bethel Church on Tuesday at 8 p. m., the last night of the year, in an emancipation celebration. The speakers are Prof. George Burman, of the University of Chicago, and Adelbert H. Roberts. Some jubilee songs will be rendered by the Fisk Club, under the direction of Mrs. George C. Cave. All invited.
