The four candidates for the city council in the Eleventh ward presented their platforms before the Ministers' Alliance at Lane Metropolitan A. M. E. Church last week. These candidates responded to the invitation of the ministers: Councilman Thomas W. Fleming, George Randolph, Dr. Joe T. Thomas and S. E. Woods. Councilman Fleming strongly defended his candidacy by his excellent record, impressing upon the ministers the fact that through his influence members of the race are drawing from the city treasury over $200,000 a year in salaries, and our payroll at the Central Avenue Bath House alone amounts to over $16,000 a year. He challenged any one to prove that these statements are not true. Through his efforts many clerkships, positions as bookkeepers, superintendents, etc., have been given to our race, proving that he has done more for our group than all his predecessors put together have accomplished. His record is unparalleled, friends say.
