

10) Walking Sleep: Associating Carl Jung's Collective Unconscious to Baha'i Teachings

Translation of Epitaph on Carl Jung's Grave

Mea culpa, no other or institution is accountable for this student work. Science of mind, quantum ⇔ qualium, Religion of heart, Medium between is soul as pivotal balance.

“O SON OF THE WONDROUS VISION! I have breathed within thee a breath of My own Spirit, that thou mayest be My lover. Why hast thou forsaken Me and sought a beloved other than Me?” ~Bahá'u'lláh

Choice. Is reality binary or just human conscious?

Dark massive energy, unknown unknowing, profoundly frightening stimulating abyss of the collective unconscious realm contrasted to realm of infinite light, of wonderment, awe of unique conscious understanding and certitude.

Saint Teresa of Avila helps arch Jungian terms to Baha'i. She realized God is unknowable. When she was confronted by the unknown, such as the unconscious, she re-cognized that she was looking at an aspect of God.

Maria Von Franz, the Jungian analyst, was asked “What is the collective unconscious?” She answered “It is the Divine, the great Mystery.”

WHO LOOKS OUTSIDE DREAMS
WHO LOOKS INSIDE AWAKENS
Carl Jung

Is the coin of being conscious practical or mystical, limited by knowledge and emotion as virtues, rational trial of experience modified by new knowledge of purpose, complicated by free will? Herein, please forgive these practical words. As artificial intelligence, limited by every data linked to priority output as function goal, protocols of algorithms modified by new data, manifold data flow simplified by mathematical random filters, is an analogy. The mind loves analogies. But answers can be disrespectful. We like to get answers for ourselves. As it is unconscious, your heart unfolds the metaphors the Creator is speaking specifically to you for your mystical unique self, the other side of the binary coin.

As mankind learns unity with and from womankind, we will move faster, like the army of light balanced in rhythm, left, right, yin-yang in step with our synchronicity. Waging peace with receptive weapons, we wield spiritual knowledge of our own selves. We will unravel our life by the light of meaning and cleanse it with fire of virtue, stamping out our ignorance and marching on.

"Man is My mystery, and I am his mystery." ~ Bahá'u'lláh 3)

Plotinus rejected the body as a spirit temple and symbol and neglected his. The cremated chose cleansing by elemental fire. Detachment from body leads to detachment from ego leads to detachment for the soul. Let it be what it is. Let it continue to its home.

The realm of mystery is known by metaphors, symbols, emotions as virtues such as fear of God and trust in God, and every whirling paradox is coined therein. If not curious, then, sleep deeper. Probability suggests collective unconscious is the realm of mystery, a divine creation, as specified.

Wolfgang Pauli and Carl Jung collaborated and each wrote an article defining synchronicity from the perspectives of physicist and a psychoanalyst. They were two blind men palpating the elephant. They asked, Are those events are connected? and if so, how? Their explorations were very helpful for us to move forward toward the understanding that the Creator is communicating every milli-moment a unique encrypted personal message to your conscious by way of your unconscious, your heart. Their examination of synchronicity allows an understanding of this hour-

O SON OF BOUNTY! Out of the wastes of nothingness, with the clay of My command I made thee to appear, and have ordained for thy training every atom in existence and the essence of all created things. ~Bahá'u'lláh Synchronicity concisely, clearly defined. Yes they are connected, as is every thing and every ideal as specified.

Conversation with a Baha'i, retired Jungian oriented psychiatrist, Micheal Bruwer MD unfolded death as an absolute collective. To our sensory conscious in this world, it is not cognitive, and therefore unconscious. All of our ancestors have ended their journey there. In that since, they are contained, separated from us, and by senses as well. The Baha'i writings indicate, by pure meaning, they can convey to us their thoughts. Perhaps they transfer by a mysterious ancient structure deep in our history and symbols. A physical container of associated non-physical reality now called kitab. Dr Bruwer gently, wisely, lovingly points to Jung's books as he did thirty-five years prior. "I think Jung is the best at explaining his ideas." We have universal terms, symbols, meanings associated with death. We have profoundly weighted particular thoughts and questions of it. It is a significant subject in the Baha'i writings.

'Abdu'l-Bahá indicates mind, heart, spirit, soul all refer to different aspects of the same reality, a reality beyond our full cognition in this world, beyond words in the realm of essential meaning. By probability, Baha'i terms "world of mystery", the "cloud of unknowing", "behind the veil" and Jung's term "collective unconscious" refer to the same heaven/abyss, spiritual creation/no-thing-ness, meaning.

Ash to ash, dust to dust. Please God may we dust be burnt up by the desire to know Thee, incinerated by Thee.

Coins and seals as origin are archetypal. Conscious face, heads; unconscious face, tails. Oh my! what lie beyond the seal?

www.etymonline.com: archetypal
["model, first form, original pattern from which copies are made," 1540s [Barnhart] or c. 1600 [OED], from Latin archetypum, from Greek arkhetypon "pattern, model, figure on a seal," neuter of adjective arkhetypos "first-moulded," from arkhē "beginning, origin, first place" (verbal noun of arkhein "to be the first;" see archon) + typos "model, type, blow, mark of a blow"]

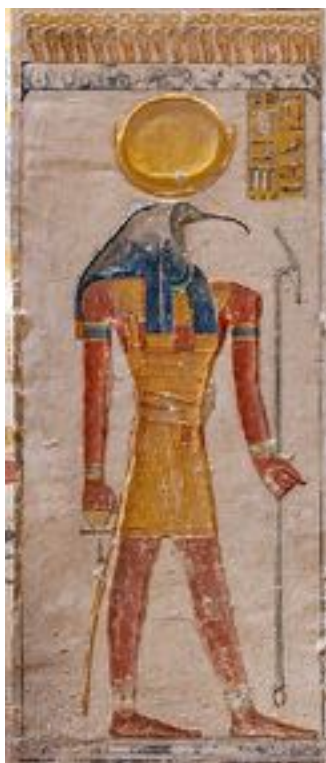

Minted coin, seal to wax, or as these words are typed on this Royal (smart) Typewriter, wack, wack, wack, zzzing. Archaic memory from our ancestors.

The selection of the word Archetype by Jung to describe the universality of symbols that we are presented by collective unconscious is not accidental but essential. When the Manifestation speaks to us, in words, terms, concepts and stories that are known to us by our ancestors, it is necessary. That every atom created has the purpose of training us, then it is necessary that the message conveyed by the "cloud of unknowing", collective unconsciousness, would be in terms, symbols, and meanings that are translatable to us, personally, with the assistance of our ancestors. Etymology is critical to understand your own conscious thoughts and unconscious messages your Creator conveys.

We confuse the symbol with what it represents, the vehicle with the tenor. This is idolatry. It is forbidden. The law of identity, excluded middle, and noncontradiction is one law. You are not your body. You are not your ego. Reality is binary, 1 and 0. You are who you are; no-one else is becoming you; you can not be not you. Creator and creation. The One and zero, nothingness, not one, being created. The Reality and symbol.

So, examining the unknown, unconscious, a question arises. Why in the world was Thoth symbolized as an ibis headed being? Research suggests He as scribe, beak as quill, taught writing to mankind is proposed. Why the entire head and not a beak tucked under beaded belt? Thoth is associated with Hermes, Enoch, Idris, Heraclitus, Zarathustra. All sources of truth as wisdom have association.

Thoth - Tomb of Ramses V and Ramses VI, Valley of the Kings, Luxor, Egypt- Diego Delso -Wikipedia

If we look at nature and we see the Ibis walking along bodies of water at the edge, the boundary. We can see that the long beak of the ibis is able to plunge down, through the vision distorting water, into the muck and mud and extract nutrition for life itself. The head is ibis because the conscious of Thoth is thus purposed. The Manifestation of God can, with the divine words and deeds which function as the beak, reach down into our unconscious and extract out meaning, a profundity, that ourselves were unaware of. Consider this, as you read the divine word of Buddha, of Krishna, of Christ, of Muhammad, Confucius, of Bahá'u'lláh, and of Hermes. By penetrating, with Their words, Their deeds, and Their very being, They extract and provide us with divine, ideal, spiritual and true nourishment.

A book called Dreams of Destiny, was compiled by a Amir Badiei. In that book, are 123 documents how the divine, by the Manifestation, penetrates to our subconscious even as dreams. Throughout religious Scripture, accounts of those who met a Manifestation, convey clearly how the Manifestation penetrates our individual and collective unconscious and teaches that which we do not cognize. They teach us even from our own selves. Our response to their Words and Personhood are evidence as to who They are.

A good symbol contains the characteristics of that which it symbolizes. Hermes said to Asclepius, "Look at me." as he described virtues causing rebirth. Thoth as Hermes both extract deeper meaning to guide us, if we so choose. When Hermes uses the word good as a replacement for the word God, in and of itself contains great meaning.

When we as human beings are walking down our path and were able to, with our curved pointed inquiry, extract out of muck and mud of life deeper meaning that provides us with nourishment and hope, then we can see that we are ibis headed as well. We are reflecting the way of Those who taught us.

‘Abdu'l-Bahá clarified that early indigenous cultures which worshiped a stone or the sun as their Creator, were closer to the Creator than someone, such as a student, who might worship his own emergent understanding of the Creator. One symbol was made by the Primal Will as Creator. The alternate ideals were reasonably fabricated by permission, by grace, once removed, and not by the Primal Will; let us not be confused in either case. Worship the One not the symbol.

White Snake Dream

August 12, 2023

So last night was a dream that a young boy was approaching and he was walking by a bush that obscured sight. Recognized in the bush, was a white snake that had bands on it similar to a coral snake. Yelled to the boy to run. Unaware, he did not at first, then he saw the snake and started to run. Running towards the boy to get him out of danger, boy was gone. Then the snake turned gaze and started coming towards me. The snake skin changed to a pure white snake, massive with a huge head, wise eyes. Backing, trying to get away from it, stopped and blocked against a banister to stairs, stairs going up. Falling back over the banister and on the stairs, the danger was great. Conscious re-cognized it was a dream and woke up. The image above is an accurate depiction.

The next morning by synchronicity brother, Mike Bruwer, sent an article about Carl Jung interviewed on the collective unconscious. By searching Jung's thoughts on the meaning of a white-snake, as well as other interpretations, color has meaning. By Native American traditions, the skin shedding of snakes is obvious meaning by all interpreters. Generally, white snake is a good, new, as pure possibility or new promise coming to be. This student took it as supportive of current research on correspondence of physics and religion yielding new meaning. The substance of this work evokes awe and fear as does the symbol. The snake also presents that by chasing after, it isolated this student. Metaphorically the non-opportunity to share thoughts forces the soul over the banister boundary to stairs ascending. This leaves by isolation unique thinking upward the oneness of physics with religion.

For God does speak--now one way, now another--though man may not perceive it.

15

In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falls on men as they slumber in their beds,

16

he may speak in their ears and terrify them with warnings, to turn man from wrongdoing and keep him from pride, to preserve his soul from the pit, his life from perishing by the sword.

17

18

Job 33:14-18

Native Blood.

As a womb-less native of America, a journey is taken to Pacifis, upon arrival no longer native, as that soil. As womb-ed native of Iberia, a journey is taken to Pacifis, upon arrival no longer native, as that soil. So be native or not is all in our minds and hearts, not as soil, native of Earth only, not the ball of soil. Native children know who they be; they be we.

The earth is but one country, and mankind its citizens. ~ Baha'u'llah

You can take the earth out of the native, but you cannot take the Earth out of the native. That is when you remove the earth, the flesh, from us, the natives of Earth, we will always still be natives of Earth. In the same way, because of our divine origins, that is, we were all created by the divine Reality and that we could never be separated from that which created us, "whether we know it or believe it." ~ The Báb ~ Reality be real.

We create binary artificial intelligence; we create intelligence modeled after our conscious. Reality is binary by the same evidence. The One created us from no-thing-ness. Creator creation.

O SON OF MY HANDMAID!

Quaff from the tongue of the merciful the stream of divine mystery, and behold from the day-spring of divine utterance the unveiled splendor of the day-star of wisdom. Sow the seeds of My divine wisdom in the pure soil of the heart, and water them with the waters of certitude, that the hyacinths of knowledge and wisdom may spring up fresh and green from the holy city of the heart. ~Baha'u'llah

Moving center from geocentric to solar centric was a massive yet subtle shift. To change from seeing the Earth as the center of the universe, to recognizing the sun was the center for the earth had massive repercussions. It changed humanity's view of the kosmos. Shifting from body centered conscious to ego centered conscious to mind⇒heart⇒spirit⇒soul conscious is a similar shift on a personal level. That shift requires that you understand: what IT is you are centered on. You choose.

Detachment from the body is not detaching the phallus and taking estrogen. Adopting a name of the other gender is not detachment from the ego. Consider another path. These acts are confused attachment to the symbols, body and ego. These acts will not make one's soul more yin, receptive, to the Primal Will that is creating us.

We are all women we are all men as yin⇌yang taught us this, we just weren't listening. If you are a good woman who wants to become a good man, then take command of your desires, change your desires, and stop wanting to be a man, by this you will become a good man, not just by appearance. If you are a good man who would like to be a good woman, then practice acceptance, submission to being a man. That's how you become a true good woman, not just by appearance. We are all men we are all women. If we continue to change the external world to meet our desires, we will by our materialism consume the earth and crap it out. If we focus on changing our spirit and control our desires, we will take that power with us. That knowledge can be used in the next life. The world of mystery, of meaning in purpose, which is stripped of external physical limited appearances, unlike this world limited of time in space.

If physics cannot speak of what we learn from women, or our own people, and what we learn from men, or from our other people, because fear of social gender racial insensitivity labels, then our conversation will be reduced. We will be divided by and defined by less meaningful common ideas and categories. Unity, thought as a consequence of diversity, is not sameness; exactly/specifically punctuated. The unity embedded in diversity creates meaning derived from purpose. Meaning depends on the intention of the words, not merely on sequence or embedding. We learn most effectively by binary vision, meaning⇌purpose. The conscious⇌unconscious.

He who trusts in God, God will suffice him; he who fears God, God will send him relief.
~Bahá'u'lláh

Relief- re· lief | \ ri-'lēf a payment made by a male feudal tenant to his Lord on succeeding to an inherited estate. Bahá'u'lláh has succeeded to the Lord of the Age. If we fear God, God will bring us relief. It is due. It is its own ransom.

When a Maori says, "I see you." Do Not Fear. They are our spirit warriors. They see with their ancestor's eyes and traditions. Their ancestors see us as themselves, by justice as mercy. Meaning: it is a comfort to be seen, to exist to an-other. They fight for us with binary vision, waging peace. When we hear the thoughts from another that is a strange perspective, we can choose to that see through their eyes that we may be thereby illumined.

Who looks outside dreams
Who looks inside awakens
~Carl Jung

The mind asks What is ego? The heart answers I think you want to know what is soul. The spirit says, where are these questions going?

Analysis of reality offers us to understand the hierarchy of reality itself. Two aspects of reality containment as boundary and vector as will as vehicle. Particular elements of the physical universe are vehicle for presence of human body. Body contains particles. Human body vehicle for ego. All experiences of body contained as ego. Ego as vehicle for soul. Values and virtues contain soul. Soul as vehicle for Divine Word. Divine Word contain souls values and virtues. Divine Word as vehicle for reality of Manifestation. Manifestation contains Divine Word as deeds. Manifestation as vehicle for Primal Will. Primal Will contains Manifestation by pre-existence.

We live in physical dream time aware, yet unaware, the incubāre, the body grows, breaths, needs, desires, and commands. While succubāre, the ego, the flip side, in plain sight sucks the breath of the divine out of us and claims it as its own. Entranced, we sleep, we walk. 4)

As the universe, one turn of discontinuous infinite space, and the earth, one turn of perceived measure of continuous time, speak to us of infinitesimal particulars and eternal, night and day, comparisons. We turn to the Manifestation for meaning and understanding, "clinging to Thy cord", to find our way.

"O SON OF SPIRIT! I created thee rich, why dost thou bring thyself down to poverty? Noble I made thee, wherewith dost thou abase thyself? Out of the essence of knowledge I gave thee being, why seekest thou enlightenment from anyone beside Me? Out of the clay of love I molded thee, how dost thou busy thyself with another? Turn thy sight unto thyself, that thou mayest find Me standing within thee, mighty, powerful and self-subsisting."1)

All human knowledge, `ilm, `irfan, `iman, `iqan comes from the interplay of the wave oscillation of conscious mind by unconscious heart and the wave oscillation of spirit by soul. That is another paper 8)The Tetrahedron: Poetry of Being. The rational soul, a reflected emanation from the Sun of the Manifestation, is created by the Divine Word. All rational conscious created to ask "What hath God wrought?" 5) While, all souls answer "Here am I, here am I." 6)
