Bad Mergentheim, April 7th 1913

Dear Harriet!

1—

Here we are in the most beautiful part of Germany! Mergentheim baths! I had never heard its name before and it is only through the heavenly blessing of the Beloved that we are enjoying such ^a wonderful time! It was about 10.15 this morning when in two of the finest automobiles of Consul Schwarz we left Marquardt Hotel for Mergentheim Baths, a distance of ~~2~~ ¹³⁰ miles away from Stuttgart.
This was arranged by the insistent invitation of Consul Schwarz who is not only the President of the Mergentheim baths but has the controlling share in the company. In the first ~~automobile~~^{car} the Beloved, Consul, his wife and daughter, Doctor Fisher and myself and in the second ~~auto~~, Mirza Mahmud, Sayad Assadollah and Sayad Ahmad Bagroff. We gave up our rooms in the hotel because we are returning to-morrow and leave at 7.54 pm for Budapest. We started from the hotel while it was pouring down but after half an hour driving, the air ^{was} cleared, ~~and there was no more rain~~. Till half past twelve we drove over rolling green hills, mountains, ^{and} valleys ~~etc~~^{the}, most ideal spots on the face of the earth. We passed by many villages and towns and here and there I saw women, harrowing the earth, sowing the seeds, driving cattle, ~~of~~ sheep, cutting the grass, in brief doing all the works that the men generally do in America.

It was very interesting to see this, because it seemed to be such a common thing.
The daughter of the Consul told me, yes, women in this part of Germany do most of the farming and the men are tailors, shopkeepers, etc.
I thought, to myself I would like to know whether these women do ~~know~~ ^{hear} anything about the rising of the New Woman, the lofty position that ~~they~~ ^{she} fills in the modern social world and the ~~right~~ ^{demand} ~~of~~ ^{for} suffrage which is carried on like a holy war in England and with dignity and ~~woman's~~ diplomacy in America. Because ^{German farmerettes} they seemed so resigned ^{to} or rather satisfied with their lot. At half past twelve we arrived at Hall, a quaint old town and in the hotel Lamm and Post stopped for ^{an} hour and half to rest and have ^{our} lunch. ~~From that hotel~~ I sent you and a few other friends a few postal cards. We had a very nice lunch and the Master rested. At two o'clock we started again and it was about 4 o'clock that we arrived at the most luxurious hotel of Nor-3 fenthim. On ^{the} ~~our~~ way the Master spoke to Consul about Bismark and how he was enabled to bring the confederation of German principalities through the idea of the unity of language and unity of race.

Counsel Schwarz was astonished to hear such a clear and lucid account from the ^{lips} mouth of the Master. The country was again most charming, the scenery very attractive and our eyes were delighted with such green garments of nature. The Beloved looked all the time at the verdant meadows and was ^{very} pleased.
^{He said that} God has sent ^{him} me to ^{Germany} your ^{country} during the spring so that I may love every part of it. ^{he said to Counsel,} ~~It was about four o'clock when~~ ^{Soon, the town} the ~~city~~ of Mergentheim became visible on the horizon and after a few minutes we ~~passed~~ through it and reached the hotel which is built on the ~~breast~~^{slope} of a hill, overlooking a vast panorama of other hills and valley, a most ~~convenient~~^{attractive} situation. The buildings of the Mineral baths are, in front. ~~When~~ Our rooms ~~were~~^{having been} assigned, the Master drank a cup of tea and retired. After awhile we walked around the ground, ~~thru~~^{thru} the hills and the Consul took some photos of the Master. He visited the baths and blessed the place.

^{Abdul Baha said that} This place, ~~he said afterwards~~^{he said} is under the protection of God. It will become a very important center. ~~I have~~^{He has} to Bahá'ullah to assist and ^{confirm} ~~confirm~~^{confirm} you, ~~Then a woman~~^{General Schwab} Bahai woman from Stuttgart had an interview with the Master. She had come especially here to see him, ^{showing} no matter where the Master goes he ~~is~~^{was} followed ~~up~~ by those who desire

He told her to be advice and assistance. Be happy ~~Beloved~~ told her ^{and} Be joyful! Trust in God! He is a faithful friend! He shall 5 never leave ^{her} ~~there~~. In the evening the Master heard the history of the development of the baths and how from 1905 to 1911 the ^{list of} foreign guests has increased from 700 to 3000 during the season. The baths is for internal maladies, Kidney, gall stone, Constipation etc. The Mineral water is also bottled up and sold for these purposes 6 There are electric baths, Massage etc At nine o'clock we had our supper and when ^{the} Consul ^{related} told a funny story and that opened the way for the Master to come back with ~~tell~~ about 6 or 8 funny, side-splitting stories, one after another. The party divided about 10.45, the Master also retiring first to take a bath and then sleep. It ~~is~~ ^{was} arranged to leave ^{Mergentheim} ~~this place~~ ~~to-morrow~~ ^{the next day} before noon - so that we may reach the city in time for the train for Budapest train.

7 This morning before leaving Stuttgart the Master had a call from a prominent German clergyman who had read the book of "Some answered questions" in French and became greatly interested in the Cause. The Beloved spoke with him at length on the materialism of the present century and how dogmas and imitations of religions have divided the people. ^{He said that he} ~~hope~~ the Beloved said as his last advice that ~~the~~ ^{the clergyman} ~~might~~ ^{would} become concerned to awaken those souls who are sleeping.

and illumine with the light of spiritualty the German Empire!

Two little gems of heavenly thought were left behind by the Master in Stuttgart that are translated here for the benefit of all. The first was in the book of Mr and Mrs Friedrich Schulerzer of Luffen-hausen, a town near Stuttgart. They are simply lovers of this Cause. They are like two shining lamps, two brilliant stars, Their faces show the love they have in their hearts for the ~~Cause and~~ for the Master. They are most joyful. They radiate happiness

Here is the prayer written by the Beloved in their book:- "O God! Endear this maid - servant of Thine in Thy Kingdom.
Verily her heart is filled with Love and ~~the~~ Happiness. Bless her family and encircle her husband with the Glances of Thy Providence."

9. In the book of Miss Anna Kostlin he wrote:- O Thou kind Lord! Accept this pure and holy girl in Thy new Kingdom. Make her beloved by all and glorify her in their sight. Intoxicate her with the overflowing cup of Thy Love. Confer upon her tumultuous joy and irresistible attraction, ~~and~~ grant her an eloquent tongue and suffer her to become an embodiment of wisdom and divine understanding so that she may arise to diffuse the ^{Sweet} Fragrances of the Rose-garden of Allah!
~~Love to all~~ ^{Paradise}

~~Alhamdulillah~~
