

Grand Hôtel, Wien

I. Kärntnerring 9.

April 24th 1913

Dear Harriet! 1 -

We were up early this morning to pack up our baggage. All yesterday I had a bad headache and so when last night we arrived from the Theosophical Society I felt almost dead and after writing half an hour I found myself later on sleep over the desk. Yesterday so many people came to see the Beloved showing the great interest on the part of the people. This morning Mr Edder, Mrs Theller, Mr and Mrs Luckmeyer and others came to say good-bye to ^{him} the Master. Mrs Luckmeyer brought a bouquet of red roses with lily of the valley. I could not bring anything sweeter and more fragrant than these flowers for they relate to you the story of our love and attachment to your cause more than our poor words can express. The Master told them Praise be to God that means were brought about for me to come to Vienna. I shall never forget these days spent with you for joy and fragrance. I found sould here who are awakened and intelligent and who love to serve the world of humanity. I hope also that you will not forget me.

I will ever remember you

I. Kärntnerring?

I will ever pray for you and beg divine guidance for you. You must now arise to teach this Cause. First teach yourselves and then teach others.

2 At nine o'clock and fifteen minutes we left the hotel, in ~~two automobiles~~, In Harrigel and Ahmad Bageroff accompanied us to buy tickets. The Master as usual gave a great deal of money to the maids, servants, messenger boys and a host of other servants. The Manager came personally and thanked ~~him~~ the Master.

Ahmad Bageroff will return from Vienna to Persia, ^{thus} we are losing a fine travelling companion. The Master wrote him a beautiful Tablet with his own hand.

3. From ten o'clock in the morning to 2.10 minutes after midnight we travelled. The train stopped ^{one} hour in each city ~~in the way~~. We passed ~~through~~ ^{past} many mountains capped with snow. The Master devoted much of his time to the reading of ^{letters} ~~his~~ ^{and} ~~Correspondence~~ ~~received in Vienna which~~ ~~he could not read while there~~ Mr Herrigel talked with two ladies going to Munich the cause and brought ^{them} them to the Master. He spoke to each a few minutes giving them the glad-tidings of this glorious Day and exhorting ^{them} to investigate more about this great Cause. At one o'clock we had our lunch and at three the Master was served with his tea.

4. It was about just 2 hours after midnight when our train made a short stop in Esslingen and lo and behold, there were four Bahais waiting to greet the Master. They had their tickets ~~secured~~ ^{accompanied} and ~~therefore~~ were ~~with~~ us ~~all the way~~ to Stuttgart.
- 5 In the station there were more than ^{twelve} ~~12~~ Bahais amongst them Consul Scherzer, Mr. Heringel, Bertha Bahrmüller, Miss Staller, Miss Anna Köstlin, Marie, Schwaizer, Miss Thurer, Mr Thaumann etc. Just think of it!

Two o'clock a.m. to come to the station! They were all supremely happy to greet again the Master in Stuttgart. He shook hands with each and immediately was taken to the Hotel Marguardt. He has the room 141 second floor and we have the same number of rooms as before. He may stay ^{two} 2 nights here. Tomorrow ^{night} ~~day~~ he will speak in a public hall.
The newspapers have announced the meeting so I suppose there will be a whole lot of people. ~~Love has~~
